The farmer who sells his cotton for Fall delivery at less than twelve cents will probably wish he hadn't.

It seems hard for the Georgia legislature to inaugurate a war on soft drinks.

Charles Dana Gibson's new pictures, "The Gibson Bathing Girls," will undoubtedly show up well.

There is nothing too radical for a demagogue if he thinks it is popular enough to land him in office.

It will surprise no one to hear that John D. Rockefeller's barber can razor hundred thousand dollars.

The popular bathing suits for women this season are said to be made in the height of fashion.

The city fathers should not delay the acceptance of one or more of the offers of land for park purposes.

After all, it depends on whether or not Judge Pritchard and the railroad attorneys have made asses of themselves.

Both the railroads and Judge Pritchard have probably made a mistake; but the lawyers are having the time of their lives.

Daily exercise in the gymnasium would be a good thing for our policemen. Some of them are getting too fat.

If Hearst is nominated for President by the so-called "Independence League" and Bryan by the Democrats the Republicans would have a walk-over. Under such conditions, even the "solid South" would probably be broken.

They are now trying to prove a case of "brain storm" for Bank Teller Runyan who stole a New York's bank money packed it in a suit case and carried it to a woman. They would make out a better case if the evidence were that Runyan stole the woman, packed her in the suit case and carried her to the bank's money.

There is not the slightest danger of war with Japan, but if the fleet of battleships is sent to the Pacific coast leaving the Atlantic coast unprotected except by coast fortifications, it will have its influence in securing large appropriations from Congress for more battleships. This may explain the whyness of the movement.

...OT GUILTY

First Case in Trial of Alleged Anson Lynchers Results in Aquittal.

JURY WAS UNANIMOUS

Decision Reached in Half an Hour. Judge Peebles Charged Noticeably Favorable to State—Zeke Lewis Next to Be Tried.

(By Associated Press.)

Charlotte, N. C., July 19.—The jury of Union county Superior Court in the case of John Jones, charged with lynching John V. Johnson at Wadesboro, May 28th, 1906, this afternoon returned a verdict of not guilty, after being out half an hour. The jury took but one ballot and the verdict was unanimous.

When court assembled this morning the State, at the suggestion of Judge Peebles, formally nolle prossed the third count in the indictment, which charged the defendant with the actual lynching and killing of Johnson and the jury therefore considered only the first and second counts, charging the defendant with breaking into jail and taking out Johnson for the purpose of lynching him.

The argument was concluded at noon and following a recess of three hours, Judge Peebles began his charge, which was noticeably favorable to the State. It was five o'clock this afternoon when the jury returned its verdict. The announcement of the acquittal of Jones was followed by a demonstration on the part of the other defendants and the spectators gathered on the court house green. They gave vent to their feelings by cheering,, which the court did not think it necessary to suppress. The jury for the trial of the second of the twenty defendants, Zeke Lewis, will be chosen tomorrow.

According to the evidence of the sheriff and jailer at the preliminary examination, Lewis was the ring leader of the mob which lynched Johnson.

CRIMAL COURT MONDAY.

Large Number on the Docket—Four Capital Cases.

Judge J. Crawford Biggs and Solicitor Rodolph Duffy are expected in the city today from Jacksonville, Onslow Duffy, where they have been at Onslow Superior Court the past week. There had been 86 cases docketed for trial up to yesterday afternoon with still others coming in. Four of these are capital felonies but it is hardly expected that all of them will be tried at this term. Young Lonnie Snipes is still in the hospital recovering from an operation for an attack of appendicitis and it is not known whether his case can be reached at this term or not. A number of witnesses, however, have been subpoenaed. Some of the capital cases are Herbert Moye, colored, charged with the killing of Press Pemberton, also col, ored, at Almont factory several months ago, and Robert Walker, a colored boy charged with stabbing Geo. Brown, colored, to death on Nixon street some time ago.

SALEM BAND IS COMING.

Will Furnish Music for Firemen's Tournament Here Next Month.

No outdoor occasion, however small, is complete without a brass band. It is the mattial strains from the cornet and trombone with the rat-a-tat of the snare drum that always acts a rally call for any gathering in the open. The arrangement committees for the Firemen's Tournament here in August are conscious of this fact and have secured the services of the Winston-Salem Band for the big meet of the fire laddies here. The Winston Journal says the band will come with full ranks, all arrangements having just been completed. The organization is one of the best in the State and the management of the tourney is to be congratulated that the services of the band have been secured. It will play for the races and on all other public occasions in connection with the gathering of the firemen. The band will also probably supplement the orchestra for the several firemen's balls that have been arranged on the two beaches.

Fred D. Hale, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist Church, assisted by the Rev. Kenneth D. Holmes, pastor of Fifth Street M. E. Church. Among the large number in attendance was a body of Red Men from the three tribes in the city, the burial having been with the honors of Cherokee Tribe No. 9, of which the deceased was a valuable member. The floral tributes were numerous and very pretty. The interment was in Bellevue Cemetery, the pall-bearers having been Messrs. W. H. Lane, Jno. C. Davis, Archie Parker, Bryant Hill, D. A. RIVER AND HARBOR

Status of Government Improvement in Cape Fear and Over Bar For Fiscal Year.

AUTHORITATIVE STATEMENT

Something of What Has Been Accomplished on Existing Project and in the Way of Repairs—Commerce of the Port.

In view of the effort being put forth towards the project for a 30-foot depth of water from Wilmington to the sea, the following authoritative statement of the local river and harbor improvement will be read with interest:

"The greatest question before the public today, a question that transcends all others, is that of transportation, and that the development of the country has been more rapid than it has been possible for the railroads to meet, cannot be questioned. It is, therefore, a source of gratification to note the progress being made towards securing better water transportation facilities, and particularly gratifying to note the progress made in the improvement of the Cape Fear from Wilmington to the ocean.

"The fiscal year ended June 30, 1907, marks possibly the most eventful year in the history of this improvement.

"Before giving the results obtained, which are given in detail in the report of Captain Earl I. Brown, Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., who recently assumed charge of the Wilmington Engineer District, under which the improvement of the river and harbors of the eastern part of North Carolina are being prosecuted, it might be well to give a history of this important improvement, in order that its present condition may be compared with its condition when work was first commenced.

"The condition of the river prior to the opening of New Inlet, which is said to have occurred in 1761, during a severe equinoctial storm, is not definitely known, but old maps indicate that there was a low water depth of 1 feet across the bar at its mouth, the least depth (therefore the controlling depth) between Wilmington and the mouth being 7.5 feet.

"Improvement by the Federal Government was first undertaken in 1829. From the most reliable information that can be obtained it believed that there was then about 7 to 7 1-2 feet of water in the river at low water, about 9 feet in the Baldhead channel, 9 feet in the Rip channel and 10 feet at New Inlet. Work of improvement on the bar was first commenced in 1853, at which time the bar depths at low water were 7 1-2 feet in Baldhead channel, 7 feet in Rip chanel, and 8 feet at New Inlet, the governing low water depths in the irver having been increased to 9 feet.

"The original project submitted in 1827 was to deepen by jetties the channel through the shoals in the stretch eight miles next below Wilmington. This project resulted in a gain of two feet in the available depth.

"The next project, that of 1853, was to straighten and deepen the bar channel by dredging, jettying, diverting the flow from New Inlet, and closing the breeches in Zeke's Island. This project was incomplete at the outbreak of the Civil War. The first project after the Civil War was that of 1870, to deepen the bar channel by closing breeches between Smith's and Zeke's islands, with the ultimate closure of New Inlet in view.

The next project was that of 1874, which contemplated dredging a channel 100 feet wide and 12 feet deep at low water up to Wilmington.

"The project of 1881 was to obtain by dredging a channel 270 feet wide and 16 feet deep at low water up to Wilmington. All of these projects were practically completed in 1889.

The existing project, dated February 28, 1889, is to obtain a mean low-water depth of 20 feet, and a width of 270 feet from Wilmington to the ocean at an estimated cost of $1,800,000. This project was modified by act of June 13, 1902, which act authorized the construction of mooring dolphins at Wilmington at a cost of $30,000. By act of Congress approved March 2, 1907, the sum of $165,000 for improvement, was appropriated, the same act authorizing an additional expenditure of $250,000, to be expended together with the balance of funds remaining from the former appropriations and authorizations for continuing improvement, to such a depth in excess of 20 feet as the appropriations for the work may permit, due regard being given to the difference in tidal oscillation at the upper and lower portions of the improvement; also to dredge a mooring basin at Wilmington (in lieu of the construction of mooring dolphins) the said basin to be 2,000 feet long, 900 feet wide at its upper end and 1,100 feet wide at its lower end. This now constitutes the project under which work is being carried on.

"The expenditures on this improvement to June 30, 1907, for work of improvement amounted to $1,032,424.48, and for that of maintenance $337,-729.45, making a total expended of $1,-370,154.93.

"The work during the past fiscal year consisted in repairs to the two dams at the mouth of the river, which have been under way some time, and in dredging the bar and river channels.

"The storm of September 17, 1906, greatly damaged the two dams, swash defense and New Inlet the flow of water over the dam from the seaside dislodging the heavy stones at the toe of the concrete slope on the river side, carrying them to a position of equilibrium and piling them up by weir action, which at the same time scooped out the sand and mud, leaving a trough between the dams ridge of dislodged stone. All this stone has been replaced and the trough filled up. Work is still in progress on the dams.

The dredges removed a total of 601,378 cubic yards of mud and sand. The results obtained by the expenditures to June 30, 1907, may be summarized as follows:

"At the ocean bar a 20-foot mean low water channel exists from deep water inside to deep water outside, the width being 300 feet.

"There is a narrow channel through the center of 22 feet in depth, and with the exception of a very short distance on the outer crest of the bar, a depth of 24 feet can be carried across the bar at low water.

From the ocean bar to Wilmington there is a 20-foot mean low water depth, with a least width of 148 feet. The distance covered by this improvement is about 30 miles.

"Some idea of the importance of this improvement may be gained by a consideration of the commerce affected. During the calendar year ending December 31, 1906, 814,291 tons of cotton, general merchandise, etc., valued at approximately $6,538,991.25, were transported over the Cape Fear river below Wilmington.

"A total of 321 craft, 134 of which were ocean tramps, all with a net tonnage of 362,497 tons, navigated the river up to Wilmington.

"There is an available balance now to the credit of this improvement of $345,781, with which the work of improvement will be carried on."

ON TRAPS OF GUN CLUB

Some Good Scores in Spite of Rain. Squad Shoot Resulted in Fine Record—Harriss Leads for Peters' Trophy—Increase Prizes.

In spite of the threatening weather and the rain, the regular weekly shoot of the Wilmington Gun Club yesterday afternoon was well attended and some good scores were made. Stokley was high average for the afternoon with 93 out of 100 although he had a close second in Dr. J. H. Dreher who broke 92 out of 100 targets exposed to his gun. There were sixteen men all told at the traps and among the rumber were among the best shots in the membership of the club. This led to the formation of two squads of the leaders and a competitive shoot between the two for 125 targets. The equad composed of Messrs. Boushee, Stokley, Holmes, Bellamy and Merriman defeated the opposing team composed of Messrs. Dreher, Boylan, Littig, Penny and Harriss. The Stokley team broke 107 out of the 125 targets and the Drehen team scored 98—125. This shoot was very interesting and the contest was spirited.

Mr. George Harriss one of the late entries for the Peters trophy finished his 250 targets yesterday afternoon, breaking 178 against 173 for Penny who was leading up to that time. If there are no other entries who can surpass Mr. Harriss, the cup will be his. Mr. Merriman has begun his series of 250 for the same trophy and yesterday afternoon had made 99 out of 150. The score in the regular shoot yesterday were as follows.

Name	Shot at	Broke
Boylan	100	85
Littig	100	52
Stokley	100	93
Boushee	100	86
Harriss	25	21
Penny	150	122
Dreher	100	92
Holmes	125	101
Perdew	50	28
Merriman	50	32
Howell	50	33
Bellamy	75	66
Johnson	50	36
Truelove	50	39
Wessell	75	52
Empie	25	22

After the shoot yesterday afternoon there was a meeting of the club on the grounds and it was decided to make the prize list for the State meet here during the Firemen's Tournament August 8th and 9th, $100 added money each day instead of $50 as before decided. The indications are that the match here will be well attended by crack shots from all parts of the State.

RAILWAY IMBROGLIO

Southern Railway and Ticket Agent Green Fined in Wake Superior Court.

OTHER CASES IN THE STATE

Judge Pritchard at Asheville Takes a Hand—At Asheboro and Albemarle Men Are Arrested For Alleged Violation—Other Notes.

(By Associated Press.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 19.—Thirty thousand dollars fine was imposed by Judge B. F. Long on the Southern Railway at 6:28 this evening, after the jury had returned a verdict of guilty against it and Ticket Agent T. E. Green, of the Raleigh office, for selling tickets in excess of two and a quarter cents a mile. In the case against Green personally, Judge Long's sentence was $10 and the requirement of a promise from Green not to again defy the law by selling tickets at an excess rate. Green was given half an hour for consideration and came into court and agreed to pay the fine and give the promise, upon which the fine was reduced to five dollars, which Green paid.

The morning was consumed by argument of counsel for and against Green and the Southern Railway, followed by the charge to the jury. In imposing sentence on the Southern Railway Judge Long declared emphatically that jurisdiction in criminal cases in this State lay exclusively with the State courts. He informed the Southern Railway counsel that if the Southern Railway would obey the act of the Legislature and put the rate law into effect until finally passed upon by the proper tribunal, that the State would hold up its cases.

He directed that an execution be issued against the Southern Railway for the payment of the fine of $30,000 imposed, and that the papers be placed in the hands of the sheriff for execution. The court then adjourned.

There are cases on the docket here against agents of the Southern Railway in this county, at Auburn, Garner, Carey and Morrisville similar to the Green case. These go over to the next term.

Raleigh, N. C., July 19.—The argument by counsel in the famous case against the Southern Railway Company and Agent Green, began in the Wake Superior Court this morning at 9:30 and continued four hours, two hours and three speakers to a side.

The defense was awarded the opening and the closing speeches, since no evidence for the defense was presented. F. H. Busbee opened for the defense. He congratulated Agent Green that he was now before a jury of his countrymen who would pass on his guilt or innocence. He took the ground that the sole issue before the court was the sale of a ticket to one W. F. Jones at more than the rate established by law. He read and commented on the rate act, holding that if Section 4 is void, the whole indictment fails. He reviewed the whole aspect of the case, both in the State and the United States courts. He declared it to be unfair for the Legislature to attempt to take away property and then prescribe a penalty for legal resistance. This would be confiscatory and, therefore, a violation of the constitution. Numerous authorities were cited.

Mr. Busbee argued that the original injunction regulations were binding on Agent Green before the State court case was instituted and had he violated it he would have been arrested. And now he is under arrest and threatened with the roads for obeying an order of the United States Court. He referred to reconstruction days and the reign of Kirk and the course pursued in that time "that tried men's souls."

Mr. Busbee took the ground that the evidence was that Mr. Green did not sell the ticket in question, after all; that he was out of the city on that afternoon, as testified to by Clerk Jones. He argued also that the sale was not actually for more than 2 1-4 cents, since the distance was really eight and a half miles, and the price paid 20 cents. This whole stir and commotion is really over an amount less than two cents. Mr. Busbee spoke thirty-nine minutes.

Speaker of the House of Representatives E. J. Justice was first to speak for the prosecution. He held that it was not incumbent on him to answer in any way the argument of Mr. Busbee as to the constitutionality of the rate act; that was a matter that Judge Long had ruled on already, a quesion of law for the judge and not for the jury at all. Busbee took issue with him, establishing his contention that Judge Long had not passed on this and that it was not competent for argument. He reviewed the resistance of the defense to the present trial and ridiculed the congratulations of Busbee to Agent Green that he was before a jury.

He was there mighty unwillingly. He regretted that the Southern Raik way did not manifest as much respect and regard for the Eleventh as for the Fourteenth amendment to the constitution, but was striving in every way possible to tear this case away from the State to the Federal court. He argued that the Southern, in order to carry its point and avoid obedience

CENTRALIZATION.

The editorial reproduced below from the Washington Post is on a subject that must enter largely into the discussions incident to the next Presidential campaign.

All thoughtful men must see that, under the Roosevelt methods the country is rapidly drifting into centralization.

Not only must the United States become a "world power," but the several States must be governed by the central power at Washington.

This is a question of vital importance to all who wish to see the States retain the powers they reserved when the Federal constitution was framed. The Post says:

"Among the distinguished Democrats who have responded to Col. Watersons' battle cry, 'Back to the Constitution!' may be mentioned ex-Senator Carmack and Senator Rayner, the former in a communication to Harper's Weekly, the latter in an address delivered at the Parker and Jefferson dinner in New York. He urged that the next Democratic platform be made brief and pertinent, including a plank for a moderate tariff and commercial reciprocity with other trading nations, and 'a plank declaring that there is no such thing as an unwritten constitution of the United States,' adding: 'In obedience to the Constitution, I would then unequivocally declare for the supremacy of the States and not yield the smallest portion of their sovereign rights over matters of local and domestic concern that lie clearly within their province and jurisdiction." That great lawyer, Judson Harmon, and that profound jurist, Alton B. Parker, have taken occasion to put themselves on record against centralization by irregular methods. They have protested vigorously against any changes in the Constitution by any other process than those two which are prescribed in the instrument itself. Mr. Henry Litchfield West, one of the Commissioners of the District of Columbia, to which position he was appointed and reappointed as a Democrat, refers to the deliverances of Carmack and Rayner in his regular quarterly contribution to the Forum. He says: 'With all due respect to these eminent gentlemen, it would seem as if there would be great difficulty in arousing the people on this question of the rights of the States. It was pointed out in the last issue of the Forum that the great mass of the American people are demanding an extension rather than a diminution of Federal control. * * * There is a small proportion of thoughtful men who are honestly concerned in restricting Federal control and who would insure to the States the largest degree of authority. The bulk of the voters, however, know little about the relations of the States to the Federal government, and they care less.' But if thoughtful men are on one side and the bulk of the voters are either on the other or neutral, it is high time to begin a campaign of education. The question is not, however, simply whether the constitutional rights of the States shall be respected, but whether the form of the Federal government shall be subjected to organic changes by usurpations of power on the part of the executive branch. There is a lawful way to change constitutional provisions, and for officers of the government to resort to any other way is to betray a sacred trust. It is not in evidence nor is it fairly inferable from any known facts that the masses of the peope are indifferent to the constitution or would welcome any deviation from its provisions. It is a fact, however, that the most popular Democrat in the United States is cheek by jowl with Senator Beveridge in the most insidious attack thus far made on the nation's fundamental law."

DIVERSIFIED FARMING.

(Commuicated.)

I have noticed for years that your paper has continually urged our farmer friends to diversify crops to get the best results. Having been engaged for nearly twenty years in supplying to some little extent the interior merchants on extended time, I have been in postion to know from experience that you have struck the right key, and there is no question in my mind as to the advice being good. In some sections especially, the tendency has too often been to run too much on one crop where that one commodity in a previous year has shown unusually good results. It has been my wish for a long time to second you in your efforts to encourage people to deversify their crops, and this communication is prompted at this particular time by the receipt of a letter from a substantial customer in Eastern Carolina who is both a merchant and farmer to a considerable extent. We really think his letter ought to be published in circular form and scattered broadcast over this part of the country. Allow me to quote certain parts of his letter:

"We are about through harvesting one of the largest oat crops that was ever made in this section. Speaking individually, the crops on all of my plantations are as good as I could ask. With a 30 horse farm I have not bought a peck of corn nor a pound of forage. I have plenty of old corn, hay, and fodder now and enough oats to run me till next January. Sold nearly 1,000 bushels of home raised corn early in the season for cash and fully 15,000 pounds of fodder, hay and shucks. I have not bought a bale of hay in 18 years for anyone and never expect to buy any more. Have bought a little corn for some of my time customers, but have sold of my own production five bushels to every one I have bought for the customers referred to.

Have made it a rule not to advance people who have nothing to go upon, that is nothing to make a crop on, and the result is I expect my section comes as near buying no corn and hay as any section in the State, and I feel satisfied if we could get merchants all over the State to put their foot on this, people who make nothing but cotton would be forced to make home supplies and we would not suffer such severe extremes as the last season brought to some of us, and we would hear less cry of hard times.

Please let me say in conclusion, the writer of the foregoing is, notwithstanding the above, a large cotton farmer, has a good mercantile business, trades largely with my firm and is counted a successful man in his community."

Very truly yours,
P. PEARSALL.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—"Mr Roosevelt has put in another bill. He stands for a 'modified form' of public ownership. A 'modified form' of public ownership would be just enough to give a man in the Presidential office power to recommend an increase in salaries of all the employes, free transportation for voters, or to do something else just before election that would render it easy to sweep the country."—Galveston News (Dem).

—James S. Clarkson, the gentleman who manipulated "crisp new $2 bills" and got Southern Republican delegates for Harrison, has declared in favor of Cortelyou for the Presidency. For years Clarkson has been known as the premier spoilsman of the country and a "practical" politician in just about the worst sense of that term. With Clarkson and Elkins on his staff of boomers, Cortelyou is so hopelessly handicapped that he will never be heard of in the convention.—Savannah News. (Dem).

—The time must come when a Southern man is considered eligible to the Presidency, and why not now? Whenever the proposition is presented to name a Southern man, there will be somebody to shake and shiver and doubt, and the spasm may as well be soon as late. Of course, we would not have a Southern man nominated simply because he is from the South, but we do want consideration given to the availability of Southern men entirely aside from their geographical condition. And, as Judge Parker says, the South is rich in available men."—Charleston Post (Dem).

—It seems after all the fuss, the plan to send a big fleet to the Pacific was only a 'ruse'—a ruse of peace, not of war. Mr. Roosevelt merely wished in this fire-alarm way, to call attention to the need of more battleships, more naval bases in the Pacific, more men on the ships, more expenditures on the Pnaama canal, and to 'my policies.' Nothing more. And we are whispered in the ear that the order—whether Metcalf's, Loeb's, Newberry's or Roosevelt's, we are not put wise—will be withdrawn. So the great armada of Fighting Bob will dissolve, and like other insubstantial pageants, faded, leave not a wreck behind.—Columbia State (Dem).

A Memorable Day.

One of the days we remember with pleasure, as well as with profit to our health, is the one on which we became acquainted with Dr. King's New Life Pills, the painless purifiers that cure headache and billiousness, and keep the bowels right. 25c at R. R. Bellamy's Drug Store.

IT IS SERIOUS.

Some Wilmington People Fail to Realize the Seriousness.

The constant aching of a bad back.
The weariness, the tired feeling,
The pains and aches of kidney ills
Are serious—if neglected.
Dangerous urinary troubles follow.

A Wilmington citizen shows you how to avoid them.

J. E. Bloodworth, formerly residing at 30 South Front street and employed at 123 Princess street, Wilmington, N. C., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they have proven to be a valuable remedy and I believe I am safe in recommending them. My back and kidneys have given me great trouble. I thought I had rheumatism. I had shooting pains through my back and sides which often made me yell right out. If I stood, sat or lay down or kept in any one position for any length of time it was almost impossible for me to move on account of the great pain. I heard some one speak of Doan's Kidney Pills and sent to Bellamy's drug store and got a box. They completely removed the pains. They are without doubt a valuable remedy for backache."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents, Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

A good American flag is worth $2.50. THE PHILADELPHIA PRESS offers a fine hand-sewed American Flag (size 3x5 feet) and a year's subscription to THE DAILY PRESS, both for $3.50. How Piutes Catch Quail.

The Piutes have a unique way of getting quail. For them there is no closed season or, indeed, any game law whatever. Seasons when the quail come down from the mountains to the spring the Indians make great preparation for their capture. They build a bough house with a long slender opening in the front formed of tall straight sticks set closely together. Within the house an Indian sits concealed, holding a long limber rod, which he operates dexterously through the narrow opening. In the early morning when the birds flock down for water he picks them off one at a time, killing them instantly. There is no report in this manner of hunting to frighten the others away, and the Indian often gets enough game in a single morning for the whole settlement.—Los Angeles Times.

Went to Bed For Dinner.

An amusing incident is told of the absentmindedness of the late Justice William G. Keogh of Ireland. It was at a bar dinner at his own house, and he had excused himself from the guests, who had already assembled, to go up stairs to dress. Time went by, but he did not reappear. The company sat patiently for some time till at length, when their appetites were getting the better of their manners and they were about to send a messenger in quest of their absent host, he appeared and explained with many apologies that imagining that he was retiring for the night he had undressed and got into bed. After an hour's sleep he awoke, and it suddenly dawned on him that his guests were waiting to dine with him below.

The Living Skeleton—Why is the india rubber man so happy? The Fat Lady—Why, haven't you heard? He's the father of a bouncing boy!—Princeton Tiger.

Hopi Indian Traditions.

The Hopi Indians of Arizona have no written literature, but an almost boundless store of oral traditions, which are handed down unimpaired to each generation in turn and which form the guiding principle of their religious belief and of their whole life, says the Craftsman. Every clan, and there are a number of family clans making up the various Hopi towns, has its own kiva, or underground ceremonial chamber, entered by a ladder through a square opening in the roof, which is but a foot or two above the general level of the ground. Here the education of the boys is carried on, beginning at the age of seven or eight years. They are instructed day by day in the literature, history and myths of the tribes, the priests being the teachers. Without writing and without books the Hopi have an extensive literature, and that the utmost accuracy is observed in its oral transmission from generation to generation is revealed by certain comparisons with the records made by the Spanish explorers in the sixteenth century.

Long Sieges In Congress.

Samuel J. Randall of Pennsylvania was an avowed protectionist Democrat and a man who, his colleagues had learned, usually was able to get his way. Randall had first entered congress in 1862. He was a quiet, persistent, hardworking person who attracted little attention for several years. Then the Republicans, sure of their majority and wishing to expedite business, undertook to adopt rules which would prevent obstruction. The quiet Mr. Randall set himself against the attempt. He led the small Democratic majority with a skill so unusual that more than once he blocked the Republicans' way until it was too late to pass the measure. His endurance seemed unlimited. From one session lasting forty-six hours and twenty-five minutes, where Randall had forced the roll to be called seventy-five times, he came out as fresh as he went in. At another time in the fight over the force bill he was on the floor for seventy-two consecutive hours.—Ida M. Tarbell in American Magazine.

Long Live The King.

is the popular cry throughout European countries; while in America, the cry of the present day is "Long live Dr. King's New Discovery, King of Throat and Lung remedies!" of which Mrs. Julia Ryder Paine, Truro, Mass., says: "It never fails to give immediate relief and to quckly cure a cough or cold." Mrs. Paine's opinion is shared by a majority of the inhabitants of this country New Discovery cures weak lungs and sore throats after all other remedies have failed; and for coughs and colds it's the only sure cure. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy, Druggist. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Police Court Yesterday.

There were no cases of importance in the Mayor's court yesterday. Mr. J. P. Gilbert was charged with trotting his horse around the corner of Front and Princess streets contrary to law, but it was shown that the horse got beyond the control of the driver and Mr. Gilbert was discharged. Chas. Brown was charged with an affray Thursday night in the northern part of the city, but he was able to show by witnesses that it was a case of mistaken identity and he was found not guilty. Daniel Page, colored, charged with operating an unlicensed dray, was let off upon payment of the tax.

SPIRITS IN OIL BARRELS.

New Ruling on Sales by the Chamber of Commerce—Deduction.

The Star is requested to publish the following, for the information of shippers and receivers of naval stores:

"Receivers of spirits turpentine find it impossible to sell the spirits in oil barrels at present difference between machine barrels and oil barrels. At present the difference is 25 cents, but the buyers are demanding 75c. On account of this fact, the Chamber of Commerce has adopted the following rule, effective Aust 1st, 1907:

"'Rule 6. Refined petroleum barrels, which have been properly steamed and glued, shall be a good delivery on contracts for shipping and merchantable order, provided such barrels are in shipping and merchantable order, and they are subject to a deduction of 75 cents each, such barrels with spile holes except in the bung stave are unmerchantable.'"

Visitors at the Beach.

Mr. Hilliard Player, Miss Julia Player, Miss Rebecca Humphrey, of Bannerman's N. C., and Miss Carrie Lamb, of Keith, N. C., are visiting in the city, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Lamb. They are also spending some time at the beach. Mr. Player is the venerable uncle of Mr. Lamb and is 88 years of age. He has not visited Wilmington before since 1864, confining himself to his duties at home, and naturally a visit to Wilmington and the beach is a revelation for him. Mr. Lamb took his uncle in to see the moving picture show and this was especially interesting to him, being the first exhibition of moving photography he had ever seen. It is certain that Mr. Player is enjoying his visit to the city and to the seashore, as he is being shown every attention by his nephew.

to the State law was consigning its agent to a felon's cell. He commented on the splendid family and high character of Agent Green, and charged that it was the Southern Railroad that had consigned him to prison in not allowing him to give bond or even go on his personal recognizance. As to any future attempts to divert this case to the Federal courts, he declared he, and associte counsel were ready to meet any move that the defense might make, step by step, no matter what sort of a writ or process might come. He denied any evidence that the ticket was for more than eight miles and said the jury would remember seeing Busbee take a long blue print from his pocket and he and Mr. Thom looking over it and making calculations, and how after that Mr. Thom "looked at Mr. Busbee with sad eyes." Mr. Thom appealed to the judge to confine Mr. Justice to the evidence, and that there was no evidence of any such performance. There was sharp cross-firing and Justice told the Judge he hoped this would not be taken out of his time. Mr. Thom answered that he didn't care anything about his time. What he wanted was to get misrepresentations out of his argument. There was a general laugh at the expense of Mr. Justice.

Ex-Judge Avery, for the defense, declared he came not before the jury to talk of war on State's rights and innovations of conflicting processes. Forty years ago he fought on battle fields for State's rights and he sniffed the battle now afar off. The course being pursued by the defense was in no way an invasion of State's rights as compared with the rights of citizens, individual or corporate. Governor Aycock for the prosecution took the ground that the State was standing squarely on its rights. Railroad business is quasi public and the nation is to fix inter-State rates and the State is to regulate rates within the bounds of the State. This North Carolina has done. He said State's rights were not extinct but came out of the civil war very much intact.

We have a remarkable spectacle, he said, when poor roads are obeying and rich roads are defying the rate law of the State. General counsel Thom, of the Southern, made the concluding argument for the defense. He reviewed the whole course of the Southern in the litigation to prevent the enforcement of the State rate act, arguing that no other course was open to them in the exercise of a proper regard for the interests of those who had money invested in the road, interest of people who must have facilities for travel and the transportation freight. The whole matter was being adjudicated in another court of competent jurisdiction. Judge Long proceeded at once with the charge to the jury this requiring about half an hour.

The jury was out half an hour and returned a verdict of guilty as to both defendants. Judge Long gave Agent Green his choice of paying a nominal fine and pledging not to repeat the offense of which he was convicted or take the bitter consequences.

He was given forty minutes to decide the court taking a recess in the meantime.

On reassembling a further time of ten minutes was allowed at the request of Green. Then they came in court and Jas. H. Pou, for Green, stated that while Green felt he was guilty of no moral wrong, still he had an aged and very old mother, who could not understand the situation and the issues being fought out, and fearing that further prosecution of the case would shorten and embitter her life, he would submit to the fine which the Judge fixed.

F. H. Busbee, for the Southern, said the practice was to act always in accord with the law and in this very matter the Southern had gone into a court of competent jurisdiction to be saved from the act that it was believed would be confiscatory of its property. If the law was sustained in the court of highest authority, then the Southern would freely observe it.

Judge Long reviewed his course in instructing the proceeding in this court, and expressed his highest regard for the Federal courts and regretted that much had been said in this connection about a "conflict" between his court and the branch of the Federal court. The jurisdiction for violations of the rate act was clearly in the State court, hence the insistence to retain it. He regretted the Southern had seen fit to go into the Federal court before putting the rate in operation and seeking relief needed in the State court. Other roads were observing the rate. Only the Southern and Atlantic Coast Line were holding out. Conduct like that of the Southern in this case bred anarchy. The law must be enforced. No peace would come to the State until all this spirit was suppressed. He saw no sign of any intention of the Southern to do other than continue to violate the law. So they must take the consequences. Let the judgment be that the Southern pay a fine of $30,000 and costs, and execution issue.

It seems to the understanding here that Green will be given some other position with the Southern. However, the issues are drawn in the case at Asheville and the matter may be taken up at once to the United States Supreme Court. There will be affidavits setting out that the prosecution of Southern agents is, as in Raleigh, forcing their agents to leave the service, thereby wrecking the business of the company. The Southern's counsel claim this will score to their advantage. The Southern has ten days in which to appeal from the fine of $30,000 imposed upon that corporation.

The Case at Asheville.

Asheville, N. C., July 19.—Hearing before United States Circuit Judge J. C. Prfitchard on writs of habeas corpus he issued at two o'clock A. M. to bring before him J. H. Wood and O. C. Wilson, Southern railway ticket agents convicted and sentenced by police Judge Reynolds here yesterday to thirty days service on the public roads for violation of the new State railroad rate law, began this afternoon when Police Justice Reynolds and several other witnesses were examined, the petitioners being representing by railway attorneys and the State by Solicitor Brown and J. C. Merrimon, special counsel. The railway counsel sought to get Judge Reynolds to admit that he procured the issuance of the warrants and threatened to issue others as soon as Judge Pritchard left the city and also sought to obtain similar admissions from other witnesses. State counsel objected to evidence reflecting on the motives of a State court. Judge Pritchard ruled that he would not hear the evidence for this purpose, but upon statement from defendants counsel that the evidence was introduced for the purpose of showing that there was intent to harass and cripple the railway financially, so that Judge Pritchard's rate order made here June 29 would be nullified in effect and the court thus prevented from giving relief afforded if the law should be found to be unconstitutional, the judge allowed the evidence. The railway is seeking to show that Judge Reynolds said he would send Judge Pritchard to jail if he interfered with his court.

And Still They Come.

Raleigh, July 19.—Indictments have been found against the Southern Railway ticket agents at Asheboro, in Randolph county, and at Albermarle in Stanly county, on charges of selling tickets at an excessive rate, this in violation of the State law of two and a quarter cents.

Besides these indictments for selling at an illegal rate, there are four others in Wake county, but these go over to the next term of court. At Asheville Ticket Agent Woods and District Agent Wilson, of the Southern Railway, have been sentenced to the roads by the police justice, but habeas corpus proceedings are now pending before Judge Pritchard. It is understood that cases will be brought in every county in North Carolina in which the Southern Railway sells tickets.

THE WHOLESALE GROCERS.

North Carolina Well Represented at Baltimore—Officers.

Reports from Baltimore in connection with the recent annual meeting of the Southern Wholesale Grocers' Association in that city are to the effect that North Carolina had one of the largest, if not the largest, delegation of any State in the South. The meeting next year at Asheville will be even more largely attended. The officers elected were: President, J. A. Van Hoose, of Birmingham; First Vice President, M. Forcheimer, Mobile; Second Vice President, R. P. Woodson, Memphis; Treasurer, S. W. Lee, Birmingham. Members of Advisory Board, R. F. Bowen, Jacksonville, Fla.; J. R. Williams, Lynchburg, Va.; Adolph Geyer, Little Rock, Ark.; J. H. C. Wulbern, Charleston, S. C.; A. M. Wilson, Atlanta, Ga.; L. B. Rogers, Wilmington, N. C. The Wilmington delegation is expected home Monday, some going by way of the Jamestown Exposition and others for a business trip to New York. Baltimore entertained the convention this year royally. Mr. R. H. Edmonds, of the Manufacturers' Record, was one of the speakers.

BRIGADE OFF TODAY.

Anual Encampment Begins at Southport and Lasts Ten Days.

This morning at 4 o'clock the First Battalion, Boys' Brigade of America, in command of Col. Walker Taylor, embarked upon the steamer Wilmington for their annual encampment at Southport, and before The Star reaches many of its readers this morning the command will have occupied its quarters on the garrison at the mouth of the Cape Fear. There are 30-odd men in the company, and they are looking forward to their annual outing with great pleasure. Capt. J. J. Loughlin found it impossible to be with the Brigade this year, and Lieut. Wilbur Dosher will be at the head of the company in the absence of Col. Taylor, who will spend only a part of the time in camp with the boys. Col. Taylor stated yesterday evening that the first general order as to the encampment would not be issued until this morning. There is no more popular military command in the city than the Boys' Brigade, and The Star joins thousands of friends in hoping that its outing this year will be in every way pleasant and profitable and marred by no untoward incident.

BASEBALL THIS AFTERNOON.

Y. M. C. A. and Monarchs Will Meet. The Rattlers and Giants.

Two fine games of baseball may be seen in the City League at Hilton Park this afternoon. The result of the games last Saturday left the percentage column in rather doubtful form, with respect to at least three of the teams and there are likely to be some surprises in store for lovers of the sport this afternoon. The Giants and Rattlers will meet at 3 o'clock, and this will be followed at 5 o'clock by the Association team and the Monarchs, both topliners, the Y. M. C. A. never having lost a game. Local showers are promised by the Weather Bureau for today, but it is hoped the elements will clear up long enough not to interfere with the games as scheduled. Green and Moore will be on the firing line for the Monarchs and Duls and King for the Association team.

Entranced.

The happy couple dashed through the showers of rice and old shoes and reached the train.

"Oh, George," whispered the blushing bride, "do you hear what they are shouting?"

"No," replied George, trying to loosen a white ribbon that had been attached to his silk hat. "What are they shouting?"

"'They're off! They're off!'"

George smiled broadly as he helped her aboard the parlor car.

"Oh, that's all right, my dear," he assured. "All couples are a little off when they are starting on their honeymoon."

And then began the rainbow tour personally conducted by Hymen.—Chicago News.

He Couldn't Bend.

A young man engaged board and lodging in a private family who were extremely devout. Before each meal a long grace was said. To their dismay and horror the new boarder sat bolt upright while the others at table reverently bowed their heads. When the second day passed and the young man evinced no disposition to unbend, the good lady of the house could endure the situation no longer.

"Atheism?" asked she sharply.

"No, madam," humbly responded the new boarder; "boil."

A Quick Wit.

Husband—Did you notice how ill tempered my colleague was this evening? He was annoyed because I have brought you a new set of jewelry. Now he will have to get a new set for his wife too. Wife—A disagreeable fellow that man is! If I were you, I would annoy him often.—Fliegende Blatter.

Real Distinction.

"Is Mr. Scadds a man of scientific distinction?"

"Yes, indeed," answered Miss Cayenne. "He has so many college degrees that when he sends in his card you can't be sure whether it is his name or a problem in algebra."—London Tit-Bits.

Friends of Our Friends.

Nothing astonishes us, as a rule, more than the friends of our friends. We invariably look upon them with suspicion and wonder, especially when we have heard a great deal about them, in what their attraction can possibly consist.—London Ladies' Field.

Sweetness.

The Circus and the Arab Steed.

Circuses are perhaps more to blame for the misrepresentation of the Arab horse than any other source. A friend of mine owns a circus, and I saw his posters a few years ago claiming to exhibit eighteen or twenty of the only Arabian horses brought to America. He said they were captured with great difficulty and brought to New York by a special permit of the sultan; that they were of the family known in history as the eagle feather horses, so much prized in the queen of Sheba's days; that they were snow white, with big markings in their spots of the tip of eagle feathers. We don't have to believe everything we read on the circus posters. In this case I am mighty certain these "spotted Arabians" were bought at Albany, Ore. The most peculiar part of this spotted horse business is this, and it is not a very strange reason when you know it, that spotted anything is created by a mixture of different races or different breeds, and that likely accounts for the fact that the Arabian desert in all its history has never produced a spotted, or piebald, horse, possible from the fact that there is never any mixture of blood.—Homer Davenport in Woman's Home Companion.

Popular Approval of Theft.

The idea of private property has never been fully accepted by the masses of the people and never had their cordial approval as an institution. The most popular songs and ballads of our nation in all ages, it may be noted, have been those which described sympathetically attacks on private property from the Robin Hood cycle to the broad sheets in which Turpin and Sheppard were made heroes. Even nowadays the literature that really touches the people, the literature that the educated classes seldom so much as see exposed for sale, the literature that is sold in the small "general" shop in the back street and costs fewer pennies than the novel we know costs shillings, still very largely deals with the romantic exploits of the robber. He is never a villain; he is noble and generous to a fault, but he is convinced of the impropriety of persons having too much money.—London News.

"Going to the Dogs."

The phrase "going to the dogs" has puzzled the explainers of metaphorical expressions rather needlessly. It has even been suggested that it is a profane perversion of "going to the gods," and an allusion has been detected to "canis," the dog throw, the worst throw with the dice among the ancient Romans. Shakespeare's "Throw physic to the dogs" and the Scriptural "Give not that which is holy unto the dogs" have been quoted in connection with the expression. But it seems a fairly obvious reference to the fate of the wornout horse, condemned to be slaughtered. The old Greek curse, "Go to the crows!" may be compared, referring as it did to the Greek's horror of having his body left unburied as food for carrion birds.—London Spectator.

Bobby Remembered.

Binks after inviting his friend Jinks, who has just returned from abroad, to dinner is telling him what a fine memory his little son Bobby has.

"And do you suppose he will remember me?" said Jinks.

"Remember you! Why, he remembers every face that he ever saw."

An hour later they enter the house, and after Jinks has shaken hands with Mrs. Binks he calls Bobby over to him.

"And do you remember me, my little man?"

"Course I do! You're the same feller that pa brought home last summer and ma wuz so mad about it that she didn't speak to pa fur a whole week."—Galveston News.

Only Slept There.

Dickens, looking for local color for his novel of "Hard Times," visited Manchester. He went through the hovels of certain Manchester cotton spinners, and these foul houses filled him with pity and horror. Meeting the Manchester manufacturer who owned them, he said:

"And do your employees really live in such houses as these?"

"Certainly not," the manufacturer replied. "They only sleep in them. They live in my mill."

Not Discouraged.

"Can't you realize that you're merely wasting my time and your own?" complained the busy merchant.

"Why so?" asked the insurance agent.

"I told you some time ago that I was insured to the limit."

"I know you did, but a man will say most anything to get rid of an insurance man."—Philadelphia Press.

His Ignorance.

Minister—Now, my beloved hearers, next Sabbath evening I shall begin my special series of sermons on "Pharaoh of Ancient Egypt." Gambler in the Congregation (whispering to friend)—Well, wouldn't it fade ye to know the game dated back that far?—Chicago News.

Hug Their Delusions.

"It is the nature of women to be a delusion to men," growled the old cynic.

"Yes," merrily replied the young enthusiast, "and it is the nature of men to hug their delusions."—Baltimore American.

Remembered It.

First Autoist—Were you never in Bavaria? Second Ditto—Bavaria? It seems to me we stopped there once to get a tire repaired.—Scribner's Magazine.

The sea yields about three gallons of salt from each 100 gallons of its water.

Straightened Out the Blunder.

Beef was very scarce in Ladysmith during the siege, but General Sir Ian Hamilton, then a colonel, insisted that "horse is not half bad when properly cooked and when one is used to it. In fact," he said, concluding a discussion, "I have a joint cooked tonight, which I hope you will all sample. Of course, there's beef, too—tonight!" Every one at the table preferred the beef, with the exception of Colonels Ward and Ian Hamilton, who ostentatiously carved generous slices from the "horseflesh." The dinner was nearly over when one of the servants whispered a communication to Ward. Up he sprang. "I'm distressed, gentlemen," he announced to the startled company. "A silly mistake has been made. Those joints were mixed up somehow, and you have been eating the horse. I'm really annoyed. But I hope you'll be convinced now that the meat is splendid eating. I'm sure you all seemed to enjoy it." Glances were exchanged; mustaches were twirled. Nobody seemed ready with a response. Then a voice from the bottom of the table piped up: "Oh, don't distress yourself, Ward! I thought some mistake had been made, so I just changed those dishes as they stood on the sideboard. It was you and Hamilton who had the horseflesh all right!"

The Oyster and the Cockle.

If the average person were asked what was the strongest living thing it is probable that he would name the lion or some such huge denizen of the forest and would not even think of the unassertive bivalve. But so great is the power possessed by the oyster that to open it a force equal to 1,319.5 times the weight of its shell-less body is required. The shell-less limpet pulls 1,984 times its own weight when in the air and about double when measured in the water. The Mediterranean cockle (Venus vurrucosa) can exert a pulling power equal to 2,071 times the weight of its own body. If the human being possessed strength as great in proportion as that the average man would be able to lift the enormous weight of 2,976,000 pounds, pulling in the same degree as the limpet. And if the man pulled in the same proportionate degree as the cockle he would sustain a weight of no less than 3,106,500 pounds.

Nobody Ever "at" London.

A case of irregularity occurs in a cablegram that announces from New York the residence of a certain accused person "at London." You will perceive at once the absurdity of those words—"at London." A New Yorker may want to get at London, but those who live there live "in London." And it is one of the triumphs of London and language (though most irregular) that no one is ever "at" London. You can drop off "at" Paris on the way to anywhere, and you may spend the winter "at" St. Petersburg or "at" New York. You may change cars "at" Chicago. But there comes a moment when the English language gets irregular. Is it when the fifth million is passed? No Englishman was ever "at" London. It would be as irregular as being "at" Asia or "at" heaven.—London Standard.

Iceland From a Lava Wall.

The general impression that Iceland is a cold country is a false one, says a writer in Travel Magazine. In Reykjavik, the capital of the island, I one day perched myself on one of the lava walls and looked at a scene of summer warmth and beauty. Familiar cows and cats and hens were busy in the sunshine. Children, thinly clad, were playing about with shouts of merriment. Potatoes were in full blossom, and cabbage and various vegetables added to the sense of homelike comfort. But such days are oases in vast deserts of rain, for if Iceland in summer is not cold it is not comfortable.

Room Doors on the Stage.

In real life room doors always open in toward the room itself. On the stage, however, room doors, as a rule, open outward, or away from the room. Exits are one of the most difficult parts of the actor's art, and if he or she had to fumble with the handle, pull the door toward them, step round it and pass through they would probably make a clumsy dodge of it. That is why, as a rule, doors are constructed to open outward at a push.

Betty's Gift.

A Lancashire vicar was asked by the choir to call upon old Betty, who was deaf, but who insisted in joining in the solo of the anthem, and to ask her only to sing in the hymns. He shouted into her ear, "Betty, I've been requested to speak to you about your singing." At last she caught the word "singing" and replied: "Not to me be the praise, sir. It's a gift."—Pall Mall Gazette.

Chinese Troops Good Runners.

In the drilling of recruits for the Chinese army each man is required to carry sand in his knapsack. For the first day he carries two ounces; on each succeeding day he increases this amount by two ounces until at last he is carrying sixteen pounds. These men can run at a dog trot for ten consecutive hours and arrive at the end of that time in a fit condition for fighting.

Better Than His Pick.

A story is told of an Irishman who, while walking with his friend, passed a jeweler's shop where there were a lot of precious stones in the window.

"Would you not like to have your pick?"

"Not me pick, but me shovel," said Mike.

A man who makes two jobs grow where one grew before is about the best working definition of a patriot.—Nashville American.

Hooking the Wary Trout.

Trout when hungry usually face the current. This fact should be remembered when approaching a bridge or eddy where the "speckled beauties love to hide." If possible, such spots should be approached upstream. It may take a little more time to go around and come back up, but "make haste slowly" is said to be the first axiom of trout fishing. As the stream becomes warmer, the trout seek the cool pools and shaded places. They are to be found where a cold spring bubbles up into the stream or where a mountain creek enters. Often a number frequent the same haunt. Each additional fish means two more eyes to watch for the fisherman. One trout is all that is necessary to give a danger signal by darting away. The rest immediately follow suit. To catch more than one, or even that, in such a place takes skill in the use of the line. But who has said that trout fishing is not an art?—Circle Magazine.

Our Pygmy Ancestors.

The armor of the knights of the middle ages is too small for their modern descendants. Hamilton Smith records that two Englishmen of average dimensions found no suit large enough to fit either of them in the great collection of Sir Samuel Meyrick. The head of the oriental saber will not admit the English hand nor the bracelet of the Kaffir warrior the English arm. The swords found in Roman tumuli have handles inconveniently small, and the great mediaeval two handed sword is now supposed to have been used only for one or two blows at the first onset and then exchanged for a smaller one. The statements made by Homer, Aristotle and Vitruvius represent six feet as a high standard for full grown men, and the irrefutable evidence of the ancient doorways, bedsteads and tombs proves the average size of the race certainly not to have diminished in modern days.—London Hospital.

A Queer Coincidence.

While a serial story was running in a certain magazine a lady in Johannesburg wrote to the publisher asking whether Christian Lys (the author's nom de plume) was assumed or not. She herself was a Mrs. Lys, who was trying to trace an ancestor of her late husband's who was a descendant of Joan of Arc. Mr. Brebner, the author in question, wrote assuring her that his pen name was a family one, his forbears having come from Aberdeen. Strangely enough, it came out that her family came also from Aberdeen and their name was Brebner.—Pall Mall Gazette.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Whiteville Echo: "On Friday, August 2nd, there will be a big educational rally and picnic at New Hope Church. The people of that community are arranging to call for an election on the question of a special school tax, and they purpose to set the ball a rolling and start the campaign for better schools."

—Whiteville Echo: "The Farmers' Central Warehouse at Fair Bluff, had their first tobacco sale for the season yesterday. There is more tobacco in this section this year than has been before in several years, and the crop generally looks well. It is to be hoped that good prices may be realized by the growers."

—Whiteville News: The lists for subscription of stock to erect a cotton mill in Whiteville are now in the hands of the committee recently appointed for this purpose. Whiteville is situated near enough the projected line of the Rockingham Power Co., to secure electric power which is cheaper than the bare fuel with which steam is generated."

—Lumberton Robesonian: "From the report of the board of equalization, which will be found on the second page of this issue, it will be seen, that property values have increased from 10 to 25 per cent in nine of the nineteen townships in Robeson county. We have not yet been able to obtain an estimate of the total increase of the property vales for the county."

—Charlotte Chronicle: "The North Charlotte Realty Company has been organized with a capital of $150,000. Mr. C. W. Johnston is president, and J. L. Spencer secretary and treasurer. The company will develop the land on the farm of the old county home, of which there are about 165 acres. A number of residences will be erected and sold on easy terms."

—Richmond Neck Commonwealth: "The Carolina Fibre Company, with headquarters at Hartsville, S. C., has been operating a pulp mill in Roanoke Rapids for eighteen months. The Roanoke Rapids Paper Company, with $300,000 capital is preparing to put in a finishing plant which will turn out paper in its finished form. The Roanoke Mill Company is erecting forty or fifty new buildings for the use of operatives in the new enterprise to be opened.

—Newbern Sun: "Last night in the law office of Moore & Dunn, the stockholders of the Peoples' Bank met and perfected the organization of this new financial institution. Over one hundred of the leading business men of the community are numbered among the stockholders and the institution is chartered with an authorized capital stock of $200,000. The new bank will begin business about October 1st, and will do a general commercial business with a savings department in connection."

—Raleigh Times: "There will be a great patriotic celebration in Selma on the 24th of this month for the benefit of the Wyatt monument. Mr. R. H. Bradley of this city, the only survivor of the four or five volunteers with Wyatt when he was killed, will be there. The occasion will probably be a big one. Those Selma folks mean business, and that monument is practically assured. Other communities will follow suit with celebrations, and the indications are that the undertaking will go through with a rush."

—Raleigh Times: "Bound volumes of the public laws of 1907 are being sent out today from the Secretary of State's office. Copies are being sent to all judges of North Carolina, solicitors, members of the General Assembly, county officers, justices of the peace, the various departments of the national government, representatives of the Federal government in this State, also to the various States and territories and to libaries of foreign lands. About 6,000 copies altogether of the laws will be sent out as soon as they can be addressed and shipped."

—Mt. Airy Leader: A petition signed by nearly every business man in this city asking for the re-establishment of through train service between this city and Wilmington has been forwarded to Supt. Smith of the Southern Railway, and if the Coast Line can be made to see the importance of a restoration of the old connection it will again be put in force. This is an important matter, and our people should never cease their efforts until through trains are re-established.—The North Carolina Granite Corporation sent out from their quarry in the suburbs of this city last Saturday over the Southern Railway a solid granite column, called the "big paper weight," which weighed one hundred and sixteen thousand pounds, and was three and a half feet thick, five feet wide and thirty feet long. This splendid specimen of Mount Airy granite will be placed on exhibition at the Jamestown Exposition, where it will doubtless attract world wide attention.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, July 19.—Without being active, the cotton market was nervous and irregular during today's trading with the quiet and steady at a net advance of 12 points to a decline of 2 points. Active new crop months were generally 2 to 3 points net higher, while July showed the maximum gain sales were estimated at two hundred thousand bales. The market opened steady at a decline of 3@5 points, for while cables about as expected at the hour of the local opening the weather map made a very favorable showing. Liverpool eased off right after the local start and with the forecast pointing to continued favorable growing conditions in the South, prices here sold off during the early session to a net decline of about 7@10 points. October sold at 11.60, which was a new low level for the current movement. Selling on the decline seemed to be chiefly liquidation of long accounts through one or two wire houses, and some scattering local pressure, and at the decline the market was steadier by covering. The leading short interests appeared to oppose the later rally, but the market ruled steadier in the late session and the close was within a point or two of the best. The introsight movement was light pointing to a good decrease in the visible supply for the week, but statistics are attracting little attention for the time being; interest centering on the new crop condition and the probable showing of the next government condition report on August 2nd.

Receipts at the ports today, 1,219 bales against 3,270 last week and 3,314 last year. For the week 11,000 bales against 15,802 last week and 25,197 last year. Total receipts at New Orleans 318 bales against 1,214 last year and at Houston 31 bales against 750 last year.

Pilgrims and Puritans.

The pilgrims, or, as they are often called, the "pilgrim fathers," were the seventy-four men and the twenty-eight women, members of the John Robinson's church, who sailed in the Mayflower from Leyden to North America and landed at Plymouth Rock, where they founded a colony Dec. 25, 1620. The Puritans were the English nonconformists who came over later, the name being given to them on account of their supposed great purity of doctrine, life and discipline.—New York American.

Cochineal.

Cochineal, so much used for coloring table jellies and also given to infants as a domestic remedy for whooping cough, is the whole insect of a class called coccus, but only the females are used. Why? Because the insects are captured by suffocating them with the smoke of fires below the trees on which they live, and as the males have wings, while the females have none, the gentlemen take to flight when the atmosphere becomes unpleasantly warm, leaving their ladies to their fate.

Warnings.

Mrs. Stubb—I notice so many married men save the receipted milliner bills. What use do they make of them? Mr. Stubb—Charity. Mrs. Stubb—Charity? Mr. Stubb—Yes; they are sent around to the bachelor clubs to warn any reckless member who might be thinking about plunging into the sea of matrimony.—Chicago News.

Her Postscript.

"Why does a woman always add a postscript to her letter?"

"Well," answered the ungallant wretch, "she probably figures out in her own mind what her letter has made you think and then tries to have the last word."

The Trouble.

Jones—I understand there is trouble between Mrs. Poet and her husband. Smith — Yes. He couldn't sell his poems, and she couldn't eat them, so she left him.

KOREAN EMPEROR ABDICATES THRONE

Exciting Scenes About Seoul, Many Being in Sympathy With Retiring Ruler.

THE VIEW IN JAPAN

Expected That Relations Between Two Countries Will Be Much Smoother—London Says His Majesty is Without Friends.

(By Cable to the Morning Star.)

Seoul, July 19.—A crowd of 5,000 Koreans have been beaten back from the palace gates. During the audience with the cabinet last night when the Emperor acquiesced to the demand for abdication a number of students attempted to present a petition to the Emperor, but police prevented them from doing so, driving them back east from the palace, where they remained all night, making speeches. At midnight Chief of Police Maru Yama distributed carbines to the palace police, but the crowd continued to increase. It remained orderly. The elaborate ceremony of transferring the imperial seal to the crown prince was completed this afternoon.

The city bcame quiet at nightfall, and is now under military patrol. A heavy rain, following the outbreak of today, was largely instrumental in dispersing the crowds. All traffic has been stopped and Japanese shops are guarded. The report of the police says 25 Japanese were killed and wounded in the day's rioting. The casualties among the Koreans are unknown.

An official Japanese report ascribes the shooting today to Korean sodiers who could not be controlled by their officers.

At the Japanese residency, Marquis Ito and Viscount Hayashi, in an answer to an inquiry of the correspondent of the Associater Press regarding the effect of the Emperor's action, its importance in effecting a settlement of the whole Japanese-Korean situation, and whether or not it was in accordance with the plans of Japan, said they were not prepared at present to make a statement.

Marquis Ito, however, desired it to be emphatically stated that both before and during his audience yesterday when the Emperor and cabinet were weighing the question of abdicating he refused any participation. The Emperor repeated his declaration that he was not responsible for the sending of the Korean delegation to The Hague and asked Marquis Ito's opinion of the cabinet's representation regarding abdication. Marquis Ito replied that the matter wholly concerned the Emperor of Korea and not himself as the representative of the Empire of Japan. Furthermore, Marquis Ito declares the cabinet's whole course of action was based on its own initiative.

The View in Japan.

Tokio, July 19.—While much sympathy is expressed here with the Korean Emperor who has retired, the public is breathing easier for the name of both contries now that the arch intriguer has been completely disarmed.

It is confidently expected that hereafter the relations betwen Japan and Korea will be smooth.

Unqalified admiration is felt for the capacity of the ministers of the present Korean cabinet in effecting the soltion of a most aggravated situation without the shedding of any blood, and in a maner evincing more than ordinary moral courage.

As Seen in London.

London, July 19.—The Emperor of Korea is without a friend among the governments of Europe sufficiently interested in the status of the ancient Korean Empire to interpose a word in his behalf. His Majesty had always been friendly with Russia, and the outcome of the Russo-Japanese war was a great blow to him. He then looked to the United States for support. When Edwin V. Moregan, who was American minister to Korea from June to November, 1905, when the legation was abolished, refused the request of the Emperor that he take refuge at the legation at the time the Japanese were pressing the Emperor to sign a treaty giving Japan contrel of the foreign affairs of Korea the Emperor of Korea was greatly disappointed and the removal of the American legation was a great blow and final disappointment to him.

The Telegraphers in Oakland and San Francisco Offices Will Arbitrate Later.

STATEMENT BY BOTH SIDES

Operators Go Back Under Former Conditions, Expecting to Get Relief When Matter is Properly Presented—President Small.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Oakland, Cal., July 19.—At a meeting held in Oakland today the telegraphers' union voted unanimously to accept the terms of settlement by the Western Union and Postal Telegraph Companies. According to the terms of compromise, the telegraphers will return to work and then both telegraph companies will receive a committee of arbitration to discuss and settle matters affecting the telegraphers.

New York, July 19.—Colonel Robert C. Clowry, president and general manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company, this afternoon issued the following:

"The difference between Western Union and its former employees at San Francisco and Oakland have been settled. On June 21st a portion of the Western Union operators at San Francisco and Oakland quit work without notice. About one-third of the force remained on duty and eleven of them who quit were reinstated on their individual applications at their former compensation. Additions were promptly made to the force from other offices and except for a short period the traffic of the company has been moved promptly. The company will reemploy all reliable and efficient operators who left the service on their individual applications and at the salaries paid when they quit work."

C. C. Adams, vice president of the Postal Telegraph Cable Company, tonight gave out the following:

"Edward J. Nally, vice president and general manager of the Postal Telegraph and Cable Company has just received word from L. W. Storer, general superintendent at San Francisco, that at a meeting held in San Francisco this afternoon the strikers voted 103 to 4 practically unanimously, to return to work, they having been notified that the terms upon which they returned would be that they should make individual application for reemployment, and all who were not objectionable to the local management would be re-employed, with the distinct understanding that the same salaries and same conditions existing prior to their walkout should govern their re-employment, and upon their promise to give good and faithful service and discontinue all agitation and interference with the company's business.

Chicago, July 19.—The following message was received tonight from President Small by Secretary Russell of the Commercial Telegraphers Union: "The vote to accept was 103 to 4, all strikers to be re-employed and the question of increase in wages to be taken up after resumption of work and all future grievances to be arbitrated. Advise all locals that settlement is entirely satisfactory to us and to me personally, and I urge that all strike talk be stopped. As soon as can return east will issue statement to membership. We should rejoice at the fact that we are in a position to force an adjustment of grievances, and not to forget our duty to our employers and the public, now that the trouble is satisfactorily settled."

WRECK ON C. & W. C. ROAD.

Conductor and Several Others Seriously Injuried Yesterday.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Columbia, S. C., July 19.—Passenger train No. 2 on the Charleston and Western Carolina Railroad was wrecked near Waterloo, ten miles south of Laurens, about 1:30 P. M. today. Conductor Henry Stewart and a number of passengers were injured.

Mrs. Sarah G. Griffin, of Evanston, Ga., sustained internal injuries which may prove fatal.

The less seriously injuried are: Dr. E. W. Pinson, Cross Mill, S. C.; Mrs. E. W. Pinson, Cross Mill; E. M. Pinson, Cross Mill; C. B. Jenkins, Spartanburg, S. C., internally; Wash P. Saxon, Spartanburg, internally; Mrs. Wingfield, Augusta, Ga., internally.

Dr. Pinson, himself badly injuried on the arm, rendered assistance in dressing the wounds of the others. All of the injuried are being cared for in private homes at Waterloo.

It appears that some defect about the engine tore up a portion of the track and the coaches followed were derailed. The rear passenger coach and Pullman turned completely over.

ELKS ADJOURN FOR SIGHT SEEING

Close of Grand Lodge Sessions at Philadelphia With Important Discussion.

AS TO FORM OF EMBLEM

Prominent Visitors Entertained at Valley Forge and League Island Navy Yard—Jaunt to Atlantic City Today—Award Prizes.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Philadelphia, July 19.—The Grand Lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks closed its business session today and the conviction which has drawn thousands of visitors to this city is at an end.

A feature of the proceedings in the Grand Lodge session was the discussion of the movement to prevent the slaughter of Elk that their teeth might be secured for emblems. A committee was appointed to investigate the matter and a resolution calling upon members of the order to cease wearing teeth as emblem until the committee returns its report was passed after a warm debate.

Before adjourning the Lodge elected Colonel Albert J. Holly, of Hackensack, N. J., grand trustee, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John D. O'Shea, who died yesterday.

Judge Henry Melvin, the retiring Grand Exalted Ruler, was presented at the session with a handsome portrait of himself. The portrait was the gift of the Philadelphia lodge.

Prominent visiting Elks were entertained at Valley Forge during the day where an address was delivered by United States Senator Knox whose residence adjoins Washington's camp grounds. Many others went on a trip along the Delaware river, where they inspected League Island Navy Yard, the big shipbuilding plants and other places.

The visiting Elks will go to Atlantic City and other seaside resorts tomorrow. Announcement of the prize winners in the drill contests, parade and for decorations will not be made until tomorrow.

WARM WIRELETS.

A umber of prostrations from heat occurred in New York yesterday, three children and two men having been reported dead by the police. Frances Allison, a longshoreman, crazed with the heat, jumped from the third floor of the Gouverneur hospital and was instantly killed.

The Georgia Supreme Court held yesterday that the negro lodges of Knights of Pythias should not be allowed to secure a charter from the State, the proceeding being brought by the white Grand Lodge of the State. The Georgia K. of P. held that the negro lodge was an infringement of their name.

Midshipman James F. Cruse died yesterday in the Naval hospital at Boston, making the tenth victim of the disaster on the battleship Georgia. All the other injured are reported doing well though some are yet in a critical condition. The body of Midshipman Cruse was sent to Washington last night and the interment will be in Arlington cemetery today.

Miss Laura D. Ronaldson, 28 years of age and rich, was shot to death in her rooms in an apartment house yesterday in New York, where she recently went to study music and art from Lewiston, Pa. To all appearances the woman killed herself, a friend having stated that the woman had long brooded over the death of a girl chum who killed herself by shooting three years ago.

A cable from Ecuador says the four military barracks at Guayaquil were attacked simultaneously by revolutionists just before day yesterday. The fighting lasted for an hour, the independents being finally defeated, several of the number being killed or wounded. The president was also attacked at his residence, but escaped without injury. The town has been placed under martial law and great anxiety prevails, business being practically suspended.

New inter-State passenger rates between all points in Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Minnesota, Wisconsin and North and South Dakota were made effective last midnight. This reduces all inter-State passenger rates to the basis of two cents a mile except Wisconsin, and the Dakotas, where the rates are based on 2 1-2 cents a mile. The law recently passed in Wisconsin making the rate two cents a mile will become effective August 15, and rates to points in that State then will be further reduced.

With all traces of their original color concealed beneath inches of encrusted mud and dust, the motor cars entered in the Glidden tour arrived at Pittsburg yesterday from Canton, Ohio. Near Darlington, forty miles west of Pittsburg, the car driven by Charles Jardine and occupied by R. H. Lucker and A. D. McLachlan, of Cleveland, and F. L. Estey, of Chicago, was fired upon from the roadside by unknown persons concealed in the shrubbery. No one was injured, but two bullets were imbedded in the tonneau.

The Charming Woman

is not necessarily one of perfect form and features. Many a plain woman who could never serve as an artist's model, possesses those rare qualities that all the world admires; neatness, clear eyes, clean, smooth skin and that sprightliness of step and action that accompany good health. A physically weak woman is never attractive, not even to herself. Electric Bitters restore weak women, give strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, beautiful complexion. Guaranteed at R. R. Bellamy's Druggist 50c.

ITALIANS ARE HOT.

Lively Rucus Stirred up in New Orleans by Kidnapping.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New Orleans, July 19.—A city jail was used today as place of refuge for Mr. and Mrs. Monteleone, Italians, released on habeas corpus proceedings this afternoon after several weeks imprisonment as suspects in the Lamana case. Several hundred angry Italians surrounded the Monteleone house and a guard of 25 policemen failed to quiet the crowd. The Monteleones were finally put in a patrol wagon and taken to a police station. During the excitement Peter Lamana, father of the kidnapped boy with a revolver in his hand, made violent attempts to break through the crowd, saying he wanted to get at the Monteleones. He was taken to the police station though not put under arrest.

Except for this incident the city was quiet today. The presence of three companies of militia and rapid fire guns at the Hahnville jail has apparently stopped all intentions of mobs to go from here to Hahnville for a lynching. It was decided today that the four prisoners will not be sentenced until Monday.

Governor Blanchard tonight arranged with St. Charles Parish officials for the prisoners to be held at Hahnville under military guard until they have testified in the Gebbia trial for the Lamana murder next week.

Hahnville, July 19.—A hurry order for more troops to guard the Italian prisoners who are threatened with lynching was tonight given by Mayor Wheat, in command of the militia here.

"Rush more troops immediately. Expect trouble any minute." was the message he telegraphed to the State commander of militia.

There is a rumor here that a mob will attempt to reach here from New Orleans and this is believed to be the cause of Mayor Wheat's order.

FATAL TROLLEY ACCIDENT.

One Man Dead and Several Others Injured at Norfolk.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Norfolk, July 19.—In a trolley accident tonight on the Ocean View Line to Exposition and just beyond the view resort, G. E. Adamson, of Providence, R. I., was instantly killed, Mrs. W. J. Green, of Norfolk was seriously injuried and several passengers were slightly hurt.

The car on which the injured passengers were en route to Norfolk jumped the track. While the crew was working to get the car back in commission the trolley pole was off and darkness prevailed. When another car suddenly bound up in the rear, the passengers became panic stricken and several jumped. Mr. Adamson jumped in front of a rapidly approaching car on the opposite track and was instantly killed, his body being horribly mangled. Mrs. Green jumped and, falling down a slight embankment was seriously hurt and it is feared internally injured.

Other passengers left the car hurriedly, falling and receiving minor bruises.

From papers in Adamson's pocket, he is foreman of the General Fire Insurance Company, of Providence, and was on his way from Savannah to New York stopping over here to visit the Exposition.
